Port Stephens itself is not a city, but rather a region spread around and beyond the magnificent waterway of "Port Stephens". It is a major coastal recreational and holiday centre; rightly known as the "Blue Water Paradise" of the North Coast of New South Wales. Covering nearly 1,000 square kilometres, the area boasts exceptional diversity, in terms of what there is to see and do – dolphin cruises, wineries, bushwalking, history, four wheel driving, horse riding and surfing are just a small selection of what we have on offer.

Just over 2.5 hours drive north of Sydney, 30 minutes from Newcastle Airport and 90 minutes from the Hunter Valley, the pristine sands and sparkling waters of Shoal Bay, in Port Stephens' sweeping natural harbour, are the perfect playground for an escape. The area is a haven for golfers and there are numerous stunning bush walking trails offering unsurpassable views across the bay and magnificent surrounding area.
